DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: Corrected patent application numbers are required on page 1 lines 6-17.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The term “unsigned certificate” is used in claims 1 and 13, where in the applicant defines a public key certificate on page 2 line 9 as a certificate signed by a certificate authority.

It is unclear what “unsigned” means in this case, as the applicant does not fully explain this term in the application. The examiner interprets “unsigned” to mean that the certificate is only signed by the certificate authority, for the application. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 1, 2, 6, 7, 8, 13, 14, 18, 19, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Andrews US 6,324,645.

As per claims 1 and 13, Andrews discloses that a certificate authority issues a certificate to a user that binds the public key of the user to the users long term identification information, (Col 3 lines 26-30, 55-58). Andrews discloses that a hash of the certificate (jurisdiction hash) sent to a verifier is compared to a recorded hash on a database for authentication, (Col 9 lines 59-67 Col 10 lines 1-7). Andrews discloses that the subject demonstrates said subject has knowledge of a private key corresponding to the public key in the certificate, (Col 10 lines 34-37).

As per claims 2 and 14, Andrews discloses that the certificate has a date and time, (Validity) (Col 9 line 26, 34-36).

As per claims 6 and 18, Andrews discloses that the hash computed is a collision free hash, (Col 5 lines 30-34).

As per claims 7 and 19, Andrews discloses that the hash is a SHA hash (Col 5 line 34).

As per claims 8 and 20, Andrews discloses that the hash is an MD5 hash (Col 5 line 34).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. Claims 3, 4 and 15, 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Andrews US 6,324,645 in view of Maruyama US 6,393,563

As per claims 3 and 15, Andrews discloses that the certificate may not have a time and date, (Col 6 line 28).

As per claims 4 and 16, Andrews discloses a private key. Andrews does not disclose storing the private key on a smart card.

Maruyama disclose a private key may be stored on a smartcard, (Col 1 line 20, 53-56).

It would be obvious to modify the Andrews private key with Maruyama's smart card, because the smart card increases the security of key storage.

5. Claims 5 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Andrews US 6,324,645 in view of Kausik US 6,263,446.

As per claims 5 and 17, Andrews does not disclose a software wallet.

Kausik discloses storing a private key in a software wallet, (Col 4 lines1-6).

It would be obvious to modify Andrews private key with Kausik's software wallet because the wallet increases the security of key storage.

6. Claims 9 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Andrews US 6,324,645 in view of Gasser US 5,224,163.

As per claims 9 and 21, Andrews does not disclose that the certificate is revoked based on the validity of the long term information and public key.

Gasser discloses that if the key of the certificate is compromised, it is revoked, (Col 7 lines 5-9).

It would be obvious to one skilled in the art to modify Andrews certificate revocation with Gassers invalid key revocation, because a subject that used an invalid key would not be accepted.

7. Claims 10, 11 and 22, and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Andrews US 6,324,645 in view of Micali US 5,793,868 in view of Boyle 6,212,636.

As per claims 10 and 22, Andrews does not disclose a revocation system involving hashes. Micali discloses a certificate revocation system where the certificate authority takes a hash of the certificates to be revoked, (Col 3 lines 18-23).

Art Unit: 2134

It would be obvious to one skilled in the art to modify Andrews revocation system with Micali's hashes, because hash's take less memory to store, and are well known for authentication properties in the art.

Boyle discloses that upon being notified that a certificate is revoked, that any data related to the certificate is erased from memory, (Col 21 line 59- 67).

It would be obvious to modify the Andrews Micali combination above with Boyle's method of deletion, because a subject would not want to accidentally use a revoked certificate.

As per claims 11 and 23, Andrews discloses that the certificate authority may mark the certificate as being invalid (CRL), (Col 6 lines 31-35).

8. Claims 12, and 24, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Andrews US 6,324,645 in view of Micali US 5,793,868 in view of Boyle 6,212,636 in view of Gasser US 5,224,163.

As per claims 12 and 24, Andrews's combination does not disclose deleting the certificate from the database once it has been revoked.

Gasser discloses a certificate authority (GNS) deletes the revoked certificate, (Col 7 lines 5-10).

It would be obvious to one skilled in the art to modify the Andrew's combination with Gasser's deletion method because the certificates are no longer useful.
